COUNCIL PURPOSE AND FUNCTIONS

The purpose of College Council of the David Eccles School of Business (hereafter called Council) is to facilitate faculty governance. Its role includes (1) ensuring faculty committees are attending to faculty business in a timely manner, (2) supervising the preparation of materials that are presented or provided to the faculty so there is time to consider proposed changes to educational policy, (3) conducting annual evaluations of standing committee performance, and (4) conducting regular faculty meetings to ensure the faculty are continuously involved in all aspects of educational policy. The majority of the work of the faculty is performed by the David Eccles School of Business's (hereafter called College’s) standing committees, and when issues arise that (1) span or cross the jurisdictions of the College’s standing committees and/or (2) are not addressed by College’s standing committees, the Council will appoint an ad hoc committee of faculty to study the issue and make a recommendation to the faculty.

The Council, or its committees (standing or ad hoc), has oversight responsibility for college-wide policies dealing with (a) curriculum, (b) college admissions, (c) long-range planning in regard to academic affairs, and (d) faculty retention, promotion, and tenure (RPT).

The Council will determine whether matters for presentation to the faculty are assigned to the consent or debate schedule. Matters that are assigned to the consent schedule must receive unanimous approval by the Council. Any voting member of the faculty may directly submit a proposal to the Council for consideration.

COUNCIL STRUCTURE AND MEMBERSHIP
The College Council is an elected, representative faculty council of the College.

There are eleven voting members, each of whom has one vote, including nine faculty members (comprising seven Tenure-line and two Career-line), and two student members.

Faculty: Every other year, the Tenure-line faculty of each of the six College’s departments elects one of its Tenured faculty members to the Council for a two-year term. Terms are staggered, with Finance, Operations and Information Systems, and Management electing new members in one year and Accounting, Entrepreneurship and Strategy, and Marketing in the next. The Faculty President serves as the Chair of the Council, and has a vote and equal rights as other Council members.

Substitutes and vacancies: Each member who is elected to the Council has the responsibility to designate a substitute when the elected member is unable to attend a meeting. A representative may resign for good cause as judged by the other members of the Council. If the representative resigns, the department elects a new representative to serve out the remainder of the term.

Non-voting: The Dean’s office will be represented by one non-voting member (the Dean or designee). The Faculty Vice President also serves as a non-voting member of the Council.

TERMS OF OFFICE

Terms of office for elected faculty members are two years. Elections are staggered so that elections are held annually. The term of office for the Faculty President is one year and the term of the Faculty Vice President is two years, the first year as Vice President and the second as President.
